Year 4

This Week's Learning

English

In English this week, we continued with the text, The King Who Banned The Dark. We learnt how to structure our persuasive argument, and then we used persuasive sentence starters to write a speech on banning football and school, and getting rid of school uniform.

Maths

In maths this week, we continued finding missing parts or whole of a number sentence and we drew bar models to match.

Foundation Subject

As part of black history week, we have been learning about Walter Tull's life and achievements. We finished the week by creating our placards and writing our own persuasive speeches to show others how influential his life was.
